AG Balderas Announces Investigation into non-profit accused of underpaying employees with disabilities

Albuquerque, NM – Today, Attorney General Hector Balderas announced an investigation into Adelante Development Center, a non-profit designed to provide employment opportunities for members of the disability community, after allegations that the organization grossly underpaid employees and kept the profits.

“I am disturbed that an organization tasked with helping some of New Mexico’s most vulnerable people would intentionally take advantage of them,” said Attorney General Hector Balderas. “My investigators are already on the case, and we will not rest until we get to the bottom of these disturbing allegations.”

The Office of the Attorney General encourages individuals who may have been impacted in this case to come forward and partner with our office.
